The greatest wealth - science enlightenment,
The biggest legacy – is good upbringing,
The greatest poverty – is ignorance!

Stimulation (stimulation) is understood as attraction to thinking, feeling and activity, motivation, giving strength. In order to strengthen and enhance the influence of this or that factor on the personality of the reader, stimulating techniques are used, and the most used of them is to stimulate competitions. Usually, it is advisable to conduct competitions on the best mastering between different classes, as well as in such directions as memorizing the most Lions, solving the most examples, offering the best, the cleanest notebook, the most immaculate book, planting the most trees, flowers, keeping the class exemplary. Competitions are usually held between groups, individually, among teams. During the organization and conduct of competitions, it is necessary to follow the rules of transparency, accuracy, comparison of results, honesty, friendship, practice and encouragement of best practices. Encouragement is a way to positively assess the behavior and performance of certain students or communities by the public. Its stimulating role is the public recognition from the reader tomo of the interpretation of the work being done and carried out in life. The reader goes to be satisfied with such an assessment, in which his confidence in himself increases. It should be borne in mind that mahkulling and stimulation do not always give the same result, not everywhere. The educational significance of incentive resurrection is seen not only in the result of educational work, but also in the motives and methods of activity that cause it, as well as in its assessment. It is necessary to teach the child that his aspirations are valuable by the educator, and not material incentives. There is no worse than waiting for a reward even for a little done work. Stimulation will be needed more, especially by children who are not persistent enough. Benefit from the method of stimulation in the upbringing of children of younger and adolescent age gives a better effect. Because children at this age look at their behavior and activity with extreme sensitivity to assessment, thirst. It is necessary for the teacher to pay special attention to students who are excessively pampered gan or overlooked. The educational impact force of stimulation depends on the work of the lan, which is obhective support by many. There are many ways of encouragement, from which it is possible to say goodbye, praise, express trust, note, Thank by command, reward in front of many, take a picture, among others. Dear President Sh. M. The appeal of Mirziyoyev on the day of yesterday, December 29, 2020, together with the people of all Uzbekistan, equally delighted us streamers. They set a number of measures such as raising the teacher's name to the highest, increasing our monthly salaries by 1.5 times, allocating additional allowance to teachers who work in other districts and other viliyats, prioritizing knowledge, quality and efficiency, which, in addition to being a great opportunity for us, also imposes a great responsibility on us. I think that in our selfless work with such attention, the analysis of this traffic light has come in very handy and the staff who can answer labbay to our president, our people at the highest levels, will allow teachers to increase the number of hours. Now such incentives are being created for us, that is, Educators. How long would it be if we could support our readers with this traffic light board. Let's talk about this. For our readers ,we will conduct a traffic light – taxi initially, for every week. Then, the grades that students received in this week are divided into traffic lights, depending on their aspiration, decency.

You are an excellent , decent pupil

You are a developing reader

It would be advisable if you add Not only to the number , but also to the quality of our class .

Foster of the same order will be lured into the room, and pictures will be placed on this N. These pictures change for each week. In each week, students who are in the green color will be encouraged to continue it will form a student list. At the end of the month, a collection of grades will be considered for students who are 4 weeks old –Green. Then they are encouraged by the fact that they receive the most points and their decency is separated and the most active pupil of the month is. The student is encouraged by the school's management and the teacher, with the father or mother being called. I believe that the use of this method will give a good result. If the reader sees himself standing in the red below, he will come to the green and read well. And the reader standing on the Green reads even better, fearing to move on to the color below. Healthy competition is formed in the classroom.
